

In aid of
Working
Animals
International

Hold a World
Tea Party
for working animals

workinganimals.org

Let's get together for working animals

We're delighted that you're joining us for a World Tea Party! It couldn't be easier to make your party a success. Whatever type of party you choose, we hope that you and your guests have a wonderful time and feel proud of the difference you're making for the working animals around the world.

When?

You can hold your party on any date that suits you and your guests. If you'd like to connect even more closely to the cause, why not host your party on 15 June, International Working Animal Day?

Where?

You could host your tea party at home, in the garden, at work, at school or even at your local church hall or community centre. No party is too big or too small!

Who?

Use our invitations and poster to let all your friends, family, colleagues and neighbours know about your party.

What?

Your party can be as simple or as fancy as you like! You could choose a country and theme your party around that. Or you could take your taste buds on a trip around the world using all our recipes. Don't worry if you're short on time – shop-bought treats work just as well.

Why?

Join us on our mission to create a world where working animals are healthy and valued, communities are stronger and livelihoods are more secure. Visit www.workinganimals.org to read stories about the working animals you're helping. Head to our YouTube channel for inspiring films you could share with your guests: www.youtube.com/@workinganimalsinternational

Top fundraising tips

Here are a few ideas to help you raise as much as possible:

Collection box

Display a collection box and encourage your guests to donate their spare change.

Guest list and Gift Aid

Pass around a guest list and invite people to tick the Gift Aid box, making their donation worth 25% more at no extra cost.

Who munched the carrot?

Use our game for extra fundraising fun!

Games and quizzes

Bring back childhood favourites like pin the tail on the donkey or run an animal-themed quiz. Ask for a small donation to enter.

Donate for a piece

Ask your guests to donate for each slice of cake or cup of tea.

Online fundraising page

Create your own fundraising page via JustGiving. This allows friends and family to donate quickly and securely online.

www.justgiving.com/workinganimals

At the end of your party...

tot up your total and let your guests know how much you raised using the thank you poster enclosed.

workinganimals.org/teaparty

Where will your World Tea Party take you?

British afternoon tea party

Anna Maria Russell, the seventh Duchess of Bedford and a lifelong friend of Queen Victoria, is widely credited with creating afternoon tea.

In the 1840s, dinner was often served as late as 9pm, and she spoke of a "sinking" feeling in the afternoon. What began as tea and bread in her private drawing room soon became an elaborate social occasion to be shared with friends. By the early 1920s, when we were founded, tea parties were commonly used as charity events across Britain. Why not follow in royal footsteps and host your own afternoon tea to raise funds for working animals?

Or how about hosting a tea party with a twist?

There are tea traditions all around the world. Celebrate global cultures by choosing one of these themes.

Ethiopian coffee morning

Coffee, "coffea arabica", originated in Ethiopia. Today, Ethiopia produces the fifth-largest coffee crop in the world and the traditional coffee ceremony remains central to its culture.

Many people in Ethiopia rely on working animals such as donkeys and horses for transport and farming. Alongside our partners, we've supported these animals since 2003, so why not honour the donkeys who carried your coffee beans by hosting an Ethiopian coffee morning?

Moroccan mint tea party

Mint tea is a key part of Moroccan culture. It's made by steeping green tea with mint leaves.

It's customary to offer tea to any visitor, often serving at least three glasses. Morocco is one of the countries where our work began in the 1920s, after our founders, Kate and Nina Hosali, saw first-hand the challenges faced by working animals. Bring the spirit of Morocco to your tea party and help the many hardworking animals of the country.

Thank you!

Indian chai tea party

Chai (masala chai) is made by brewing black tea with a blend of aromatic spices. Recipes vary from family to family and are often passed down through generations.

Across India, countless communities rely on working animals. We've worked with partners since 2015 to care for the many camels in Rajasthan who carry heavy loads at brick kilns. Why not spice up your tea party and help these hardworking camels live healthy and valued lives.

We're here for you

We want you to have the best tea party possible! If you need any more materials or have questions, please get in touch or use the order form enclosed.

For exclusive online downloads visit www.workinganimals.org/teaparty

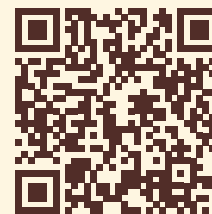

Thank you for joining our World Tea Party. Once you've enjoyed your party, please send in your donations as soon as possible so we can put the funds to work where they're needed most.

There's a paying-in form included in your pack. Alternatively, you can:

Call: 020 7831 3999
Visit: www.workinganimals.org/teaparty

Pay in your World Tea Party funds...

Scan the QR code to make your donations.

£25

could help keep a water trough full so that working animals can get a well-deserved drink.

£40

could provide essential feed for malnourished working animals.

£100

could buy a surgical kit, ensuring that one of our surgeries is fully equipped to save the lives of severely sick or injured working animals.

workinganimals.org/teaparty

Email:
hello@workinganimals.org

Mail address:
Working Animals International
PO Box 79509, London EC4P 4ND

Registered address:
Working Animals International
2nd floor, 55 Ludgate Hill
London EC4M 7JW

Registered charity number:
209015

In aid of
Working
Animals
International

workinganimals.org

